100 Dollars Reward.

I WILL give the above reward to any person who will return to my possession, negro LAWRENCE, who assumes the sirname of FENWICK. This fellow left my farm, on the Wicomico river, in Charles county, Md. on the 6th July, in consequence of his own outrageous conduct towards my overseer. He is a negro of a fine erect figure, good features, a smooth black skin, rather above the middle stature, of a youthful appearance for one of thirty years of age, and of great plausibility and natural smartness. His ears grow remarkably close to his head, and on the inside of his lower lip he has a white mark or spot. I purchased him 4 years ago of the estate of Mrs. P. H. Courts, of this county. I am led (by circumstances which have come to my knowledge since he absconded,) to believe that he will endeavor to make his way to King George county, Va.; should he not take this route, he will probably be met with in the District of Columbia, or in the upper counties of this state, on his way to Pennsylvania. I apprehend he will change his name, and if committed to jail, refuse to state to whom he belongs, as the misconduct which preceded his departure, & his absconding, have all appeared since to have been premeditated. He took all his clothes with him, of which he had a large number; among them—a new bear-skin over-coat, a long close-bodied blue coat, a pair of striped jean pantaloons, one or more white waistcoats, besides many articles of coarse cloathing; these, however, he will probably exchange, or sell them for cash to defray his travelling expenses.

I will give the above reward to any person who will bring him home to me, or FIFTY DOLLARS if confined in jail, and notice given me, so that I recover him.—Should he be taken out of the state, I will also pay all reasonable costs and charges which may attend the bringing him home.

To Wheelwrights, Blacksmiths, Tanners, Harness-Makers, Saddlers, Hatters, &c.

BELIEVING as I do, that PROVIDENCE, at Fairfax Court-House, would be a suitable situation for mechanics of the above description, I offer to such, lots in that village for sale, on ground rent for ever—will build and furnish suitable houses and rent to them, or furnish brick to them to build with; and invite any who feel disposed to settle there, for the purpose of carrying on their respective trades to advantage, to come and view the situation. It is a very public place, the centre of the county, where the superior and county courts are held. The Little River Turnpike Road passes through this little town from Alexandria westward, and where all the public meetings for the county, &c. are held; and where trades of the aforesaid description being carried on, would meet with great encouragement, and be a public convenience to the country around. No situation can be more healthy—good water, and fire wood cheap. Mechanics of the above description must generally depend on the country people, farmers, &c. to be their customers. Here they would be in a convenient situation for all the purposes. I invite a call, and view for themselves. I would also furnish lots adjacent, from one to five acres each, for cultivation, pasture, &c. on moderate terms; all of which can be shown, and terms made known, on application to RICH'D. Virginia, negro HARRY, aged about twenty three years, about five feet ten inches high, very black, well built, has a considerable impediment in his speech, when spoken to evinces much confusion, and replies almost unintelligibly: had on when he left home, a much worn suit of domestic cloth. I have every reason to believe that he is endeavoring to pass for a free man, and as such went off in some of the bay craft during the late fishing season. All masters of vessels are forewarned from harboring or taking into their employ said negro, under penalty of having the law rigidly enforced against them. I will give twenty dollars, if taken in the county of Fairfax, or district of Columbia; if beyond that distance, the above reward, provided he is secured in jail so that I get him again. PROCLAMATION.

Whereas I have received information that a malignant and contagious fever is at this time prevailing in the city of Baltimore, in the state of Maryland; in the city of Charleston, in the state of South Carolina; in the town of Boston, in the state of Massachusetts; and in the Havanna, in the island of Cuba, in the West Indies; and apprehensions being entertained that unless care be taken, the contagion may be brought into this city, by vessels arriving from the ports heretofore mentioned—I have therefore, with the advice of the common council of Alexandria, thought proper to declare the quarantine laws to be in force, from and after this public notice.

The superintendant of quarantine for this port, is hereby required to subject all vessels, bound to Alexandria, from the cities of Baltimore, in Maryland; Charleston, in South Carolina; Boston, in Massachusetts; and Havanna, in Cuba, to come to anchor opposite Jones's point, and there to remain with their crews and passengers, conformable to the quarantine laws.

In testimony whereof I have here unto set my hand, and affixed the seal of the Corporation this sixth day of Sept. 1819.

[SEAL.]

JACOB HOFFMAN, Mayor.

EXTRACTS

From an act, and an act supplementary to an act, entitled "An act making temporary provision against the introduction of contagious or malignant diseases, and their generation by foreign causes."

SEC. 1. Be it therefore enacted by the Common Council of the town of Alexandria, in council assembled, That whenever it shall appear to the satisfaction of the mayor, that a contagious or malignant epidemic disease prevails in any of the sea-port towns of the United States, or their depencies, or in any foreign port, it shall be his duty, with the advice of the common council, to proclaim forthwith in the public papers the information so received concerning such ports, and to order in the same manner that all vessels coming from such places, and bound to the port of Alexandria, shall be brought to anchor opposite Jones's Point, and there remain for the inspection and further directions of the superintendant of quarantine; and he shall enjoin the commanders of all such vessels to suffer none of their crews or passengers, either before examination or during the quarantine term, to go on shore or on board any other vessel than that to which they shall belong, nor permit any person to come on board without special authority of the superintendant aforesaid in writing; and every person offending herein, whether of the crews & passengers of said vessels, or others, shall forfeit and pay for every such offence, for the use of the corporation, the sum of one hundred dollars; and all persons of the latter description shall be moreover compelled to remain on board the vessel they have unlawfully entered during the whole term of her quarantine detention.—And if any person shall come on shore from any vessel before examination of the superintendant of quarantine, such person shall be obliged to go on board said vessel again, and remain there during her quarantine term.

Be it enacted by the Common Council of Alexandria, in Common Council assembled, That after proclamation shall at any time have been made by the mayor, in pursuance of the act to which this is a supplement, it shall be lawful for the superintendant of quarantine, by and with the consent and instructions of the mayor, in writing, to cause all or any vessel or vessels whatsoever, from any port or place whatsoever, whether specified or not in such proclamation, and bound to the port of Alexandria, to be brought to anchor at the quarantine ground, opposite Jones's Point, to be there subjected, together with all persons on board, to the like inspection, and to the same rules, regulations, examination and enquiry, as are by law authorised or required in the case of vessels brought to anchor at the said quarantine ground by virtue of the act to which this is a supplement; and if it shall appear to the satisfaction of the said superintendant, that any such vessel is from any port or place whatsoever, whether mentioned in such proclamation or otherwise, where any malignant fever prevailed at the time of her departure, or that at any time during the voyage, any such malignant fever has prevailed on board; in either case every such vessel, and every person on board shall be detained at the said quarantine ground, and be proceeded with by the said superintendant in like manner, and under the like rules, regulations and limitations, as are by law prescribed and authorised in the case of vessels brought to anchor at the said quarantine ground, by virtue of the act to which this is a supplement.

Baltimore, September 6.

The number of new cases of malignant fever reported to the Board of Health for the 24 hours ending on Saturday morning, amounts to fifteen.

The new cases reported for the 24 hours ending on Sunday morning, amount to twenty-one. [American.

Baltimore, Sept. 7.

During the 24 hours ending yesterday morning, we regret to find it stated, there were twenty-nine new cases of fever. By the number of interments, as exhibited in our daily bills of mortality, taking that as a criterion, it is but fair to infer the malignant fever is unusually mild.

Cincinatti, Aug. 24.

A treaty was held at Edwardsville, state of Illinois, on the 6th inst. between Col. Choteau and Col. Stevenson, commissioners appointed on the part of the United States, and the civil and military chiefs of the Kickapoo tribe of Indians. It resulted in a purchase of that tract of country generally termed the Sangamo. The boundary commences at the mouth of the Illinois river, and runs eastwardly by the old purchase lines, to the N. W. corner of the second Kickapoo purchase; thence, north eastwardly by the old purchase lines, to the line dividing the Indiana and Illinois states; thence north to the Kankakee river; thence down that river to the Illinois; thence down the Illinois to the place of beginning. This tract is estimated to contain upwards of ten millions of acres, a great quantity of which is first rate land. Nearly three hundred families had squatted on this land before the purchase, which was a strong inducement to the Indians to leave the country. They have obtained a tract of land extending from the river Osage to La Pomme, and south to the heads of White river. They will thus become the near neighbors of their old enemies, the Cherokees, with whom, until lately, they have been at war for more than 200 years. [Inquisitor.

From the Plattsburgh Republican, Aug. 28.

It is reported that the astronomer appointed the present season, by the government of the United States, to ascertain the northern boundary between the U. States and Canada, concurs with the observations made last year, and gives it as his opinion that the military works at Rouse's point are north of latitude forty-five.

The United States' troops have resumed their labors on the road, which for two or three weeks have been suspended. The detachment marched from the cantonment for the road on Thursday last.

A man who calls himself Jno. M'Farland, was taken up in this village on Monday last, for having counterfeit money in his possession, and committed to goal. He had between 3 and 4 thousand dollars, on various banks, a considerable share of which consisted of 10's on the Phœnix Bank at Hartford, payable in N. York. [Ibid.

PROVIDENTIAL ESCAPE,

On Tuesday last, as the steam boat Quebeck was weighing her anchor at Three Rivers, preparatory to her departure for this city, a boat came alongside filled with passengers, and amongst others, Mr. Dourat, notary public, his lady and daughter. At this moment the Quebec's anchor unfortunately came home—she drifted against a brig which was lying there at anchor—the boat was crushed between the two vessels, and the passengers precipitated into the river. All of them were immediately rescued from their perilous situation by the exertions of the Quebec's crew, except Miss Doucet, who was carried away by the current, and would have undoubtedly perished but for the presence of mind and intrepidity of Mr. Rodgers of the U. States Navy. Perceiving her danger, he, aided by capt. Hull, of the Quebec, lowered the boat from her stern, sprung into it—and, finding that the young lady had drifted too far to be overtaken by the boat guided by himself only, plunged into the water and brought her safe aboard. Too much praise cannot be bestowed upon this gallant stranger, to whom in the name of our fellow citizens, we return our best thanks, wishing him all the prosperity deserved by the brave. We should be guilty of injustice did we omit to mention, that to the activity of Captain Hull is principally due the preservation of the other passengers. [Montreal Courant.

EXTRAORDINARY CASE OF APPARENT DEATH.

From Dr. Crichton, on Mental Derangement

A young lady, an attendant on the princess of *, after having been confined to her bed for a great length of time, with a violent nervous disorder, was at last, to all appearance, deprived of life. Her lips were quite pale, her face resembled the countenance of a dead person, and her body grew cold. She was removed from the room in which she died, was laid in a coffin, and the day of her funeral was fixed on. The day arrived, and, according to the custom of the country, funeral songs and hymns were sung before the door.—Just as the people were about to nail on the lid of the coffin, a kind of perspiration was observed on the surface of her body. She recovered! The following is the account she gave of her sensations:—She said, "it seemed to her as if in a dream, that she was really dead; yet she was perfectly conscious of all that had happened around her. She distinctly heard her friends speaking and lamenting her death at the side of her coffin. She felt them put on the dead clothes, and lay her in it. This feeling produced a mental anxiety which she could not describe. She tried to cry out, but her mind was without power, and could not act on her body. She had the contradictory feeling as if she were in her own body and not in it at the same time. It was equally impossible for her to stretch out her arms or to open her eyes, as to cry, although she continually endeavored to do so. The internal anguish of her mind was at its utmost height when the funeral hymns began to be sung, and when the lid of the coffin was about to be nailed on. The thought that she was to be buried alive was the first which gave activity to her mind, and enabled it to operate on her corporeal frame."

Havana, Aug. 11.

During the last six weeks, upwards of 1000 negroes have arrived at Mantanzas, and brought to this place in the steam boat; in consequence of this large importation, thrown in all at once, purchases have been effected at long credits, at from 450 to 500 dollars per head for prime slaves; very young ones, 250 to 350.

Nothing important has transpired by the patriots from Puerto Bello; the royalists maintain themselves there, without molestation from Gen. M'Gregor.

Albany, September 1.

Extract of a letter, dated U. S. Armory, Springfield, August 24.

"In the afternoon of Sunday last there was a strong southerly wind, with occasional showers, about four o'clock, just at the close of divine service; the clouds to the southwest assumed a black and threatening aspect; their appearance was very singular, and attracted the attention of those who happened to be in the streets.—It was soon discovered that a tornado or whirlwind was approaching. It crossed the Connecticut river near the mouth of Agawam, taking up large bodies of water to an immense height. It passed the main street near the house of Mr. Alexander Bliss, ingulphing in its vortex fences, garden vegetables, &c. It ascended the hill, and passed about one hundred rods south of the armory, until it reached the house and barn of Mr. Lemuel G. Robbins, a little more than a mile east of the village, on the Boston road; and here was demonstrated the Almighty power of HIM that

"Rideth in the whirlwind, and directs the storm."

In a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, the house and barn were in ruins. Mrs. Robbins and her children, three in number, were sitting near each other. She informed me that she heard the cracking of the barn, which stood to the windward, and had only time to grasp her infant before (as she expressed it) she was "whirling like a feather in the air." The mother and the children were precipitated several rods in the southeast direction, and fell covered with timbers, boards and rubbish. Mrs. Robbins fell near a grindstone, which providentially served to protect her from the ruins that fell around her. I am sensible that when you have perused this letter thus far, you will be prepared to read a tale of carnage, broken bones and death; but, sir, the most pleasing part of the relation is yet to be told. Strange as it may appear, the mother and her darling children escaped entirely unhurt! with the exception of a slight contusion on the head of a small boy.

"Capt. A. Warner, a boarder in the house, was at the time asleep in the chamber. He was carried with the ruins nearly in an eastern direction, and fell among the timbers in the garden. He was not so fortunate as the rest of the family; he was bruised in many places, but no bones broken, and was able yesterday to walk about town.

The feather bed on which he lay, I believe, has not been found. Mr. Robbins was returning from meeting, and was within less than half a mile of his house, when he heard the dreadful crash, and saw the air filled with the timbers, boards and furniture of his dwelling. His feelings, at such a sight, you can better imagine than I describe. I was at the scene of destruction within a few minutes after it occurred; he assured me he had no expectation of finding any of his family alive, but was happily disappointed.

"The extent of the whirlwind in width did not exceed thirty rods; how far it extended east I am not informed. It demolished a shed and other out buildings belonging to Mr. Moseley; took a part of the roof from Mr. Carlisle's barn; unroofed and otherwise injured two dwelling houses between Mr. Melvin's and Russell's tavern, and passed off through Ludlow. I will close this account by stating a few instances of the power and violence of the wind; the air to a great height was filled with branches of trees, timbers, fences, boards, &c.; the rafters and other timbers of Mr. Robbins' house and barn now stand sticking in the ground more than 100 rods from where the buildings stood. One bed blanket was found about one mile east.—The poultry in and about the barn shared a worse fate than the family—several dozen were killed and maimed, and some were found with their legs broken more than 150 rods from the barn. It is stated that a son of Mr. Moseley, returning from church, was taken from the ground, and saved himself by seizing the branches of a tree."

ANOTHER SHAMEFUL PIRACY!

Extract of a letter from Captain Josiah Lovett, of the brig Rajah, to his owners in Beverly, dated Gibraltar, July 22.

"June 30th, in lat. 38, 45, N. long. 36, 50, W. saw an hermaphrodite rigged vessel to leeward, standing by the wind to the E. At 7 A. M. she was about half a mile from our weather-quarter, at which time they hoisted a flag on board her which we at first took to be Spanish, but afterwards discovered that the crown in the centre had been removed, and a piece of spotted cloth sown in its place. We immediately hoisted our colors, when he kept away for us; and while we were taking in sail in order to lay by for him, they discharged a musket towards us, the ball from which passed through our stern boat, and fell upon the quarter deck. The pirate then hailed in English, and ordered me to come on board of him with my papers, &c. which I immediately complied with. As soon as I came along side of the pirate, my men were ordered out of the boat, and she being manned with 8 of the pirate's crew, they went on board the Rajah, and in the most shameless manner, ransacked her from stem to stern, and after destroying many of our stores, and distributed the remainder, with almost every other moveable article about the decks, cabin, &c. they robbed us of the following among other articles, viz: 937 dollars 88 cents belonging to the owners; 210 dolls. and about 80 dolls. worth of clothing, &c. belonging to myself; a valuable book of charts; a beautiful 8 feet stern boat, with oars, &c.; 15 bags of pepper; 12 bags of rice; a brass compass; 3 pieces Russia duck; 25 blocks of different sizes; 25 lbs. wormings; 6 boarding pikes; 20 lb. chocolate; 15 or 20 lb. sugar; 2 lb. tea; 20 gallons vinegar; 1½ doz. Sicily wine; 100 pumpkins; 1 pig of 50 lb.; 1 silver watch; 1 doz. hooks and thimbles, &c. They even shifted the shoes from their feet, and hats from their heads, where they found better. Finally, after having overhauled and turned every thing upside down on board the Rajah, and taken every thing they considered worth taking, they returned to their vessel, and gave me liberty to proceed on my voyage. All the time I remained on board the pirate, they had lines rove at their fore yard arm, with running bowlines in them; each time the boat returned from the pirate to the Rajah, they were ordered to interrogate my people respecting the cargo, and particularly whether there was any gold dust on board, and to inform them the halter was ready for them at the yard-arm if they were caught in a lie.

The principal conversation among the officers, while I was on board, was held in the French language, but they occasionally spoke in English, Spanish and Portuguese. The greater part of the officers appeared to be Frenchmen. There were however several Americans and Englishmen, and some Spaniards among them. They would give no satisfactory information as to the flag or commission they were sailing under, or by what authority they plundered me. The only excuse they were heard to make, was, that several of them had been plundered by American privateers during the late war with England, and they now were retaliating.

At the request of com. Stewart, commander of the American squadron, a part of which I found here, I gave him a particular statement of the piracy; he immediately determined to send out the Erie sloop of war, in quest of the pirate, and desired me to let one of my officers go in her, which I complied with. He regretted that he had not known it a day sooner, as he could have sent two or three vessels in pursuit of the pirate. The Erie sailed yesterday—she is to cruise till the 20th of August, when she is to return, if they hear nothing of her; but if they obtain any correct information of the piratical vessel, the Erie is ordered to pursue her until she is captured."

The Rajah arrived at Gibraltar July 21, in 131 days from Sumatra, with pepper.—The Guerriere and Spark had sailed for Leghorn the day before her arrival. The Rajah was boarded on her outward passage to Sumatra, from a South American cruizer, and plundered of a number of articles. [N. York Evening Post.

ANECDOTE OF CURRAN.

"As a judge Lord Avonmore had one great fault. He was apt to take up a first impression of a cause, and it was very difficult to obliterate it. The advocate therefore, had not only to struggle against the real obstacles presented to him by the case itself, but also with the imaginary ones created by the hasty anticipation of the Judge. Curran was one day most seriously annoyed by this habit of Lord Avonmore, and he took the following whimsical method of correcting it.

The reader must remember that the object of the narrator was, by a tedious and malicious procrastination, to irritate his hearer into the foible which he was so anxious to eradicate. They were to dine together at the house of a mutual friend, and a large party was assembled, many of whom witnessed the occurrences of the morning. Curran, contrary to all his usual habits, was late for dinner, and at length arrived in the most admirable affected agitation. "Why Mr. Curran, you have kept us a full hour waiting dinner for you"—grumbled out Lord Avonmore.—"Oh, my dear Lord, I regret it much—you know it is not my custom, but—I've just been witness to a most melancholy occurrence,"—"You seem terribly moved by it—take a glass of wine—what was it—what was it?" "I will tell you, my lord, the moment I can collect myself—I had been detained at court—in the court of chancery—your Lordship knows the chancellor sits late"—"I do—I do—but go on."—Well, my lord, I was hurrying here as fast as ever I could—I did not even change my dress—I hope I shall be excused for coming in my boots."—"Poh, poh, never mind your boots—the point—come at once to the point of the story."—"Oh—I will, my good lord, in a moment I walked here; I would not even wait to get the carriage ready, it would have taken time, you know—now there is a market exactly in the road by which I had to pass—your lordship may perhaps recollect the market—do you?"—To be sure I do—go on, Curran—go on with the story."—I am very glad your lordship remembers the market, for I totally forget the name of it—the name—the name—"—"What the Devil signifies the name, Sir?—its the Cattle Market."—"Your Lordship is perfectly right—it is called the Cattle Market. Well, I was passing through that very identical Cattle Market, when I observed a butcher preparing to kill a calf—he had a huge knife in his hand; it was as sharp as a razor; the calf was standing beside him; he drew the knife to plunge it into the animal; just as he was in the act of doing so, a little boy about four years old; his only son, the loveliest little boy I ever saw, ran suddenly across his path—and he killed! O! he killed——"—"The child? the child!" vociferated Lord Avonmore.—"No my Lord, the calf," continued Curran, very coolly—"he killed the calf—But —your Lordship is in the habit of anticipating." The universal laugh was thus raised against his lordship, and Curran declared that often afterwards, a first impression was removed more easily from the court of Exchequer by the recollection of the calf in Cattle Market, than by all the eloquence of the entire profession"

Alex'a. Common Council.

September 6.

A communication from the Mayor enclosing a communication from the Board of Health, was received and read; whereupon the following resolution was adopted:—

Whereas it appears by a communication from the Board of Health to the Mayor and from other sources, that a malignant disease exists in the ports of Boston, Charleston, Baltimore and Havana:

It is therefore Resolved—That the Mayor be and he is hereby authorised to enforce the quarantine regulations against vessels arriving from the said ports and all others where a malignant disease may exist; agreeably to a law passed 29th May, 1804, and of a law supplementary thereto, passed the 7th September, 1805.

Ordered, That the auditor report to the Common Council the state of the account of Robert Brocket, jun. for the pavement of the footways, and if any, and what or-eacles prevent the collection of the accounts from the individuals to whom the work has been charged.

Ordered. That the tax on one story improperly charged to, and paid by Caleb Griffes, be refunded.

Ordered, That the sum assessed on William Devaughn, for a dog shot by the constables, be remitted.

On balloting for a surveyor of the town, William Harper was duly elected.

The committee to whom was referred the petition of George Drinker and others, were, upon motion, discharged from the further consideration of the same, and the said petition was referred to the surveyor of the town.

Valuable Land for Sale.

THE subscriber will sell at private sale, the tract of land on which he lives, containing about

Fifteen Hundred Acres,

It joins the town of Warrenton, the seat of justice for Fauquier county—It is 42 miles from Alexandria, the city of Washington and Georgetown; 40 from Fredericksburg, and 45 from Winchester. This estate, in a neighborhood celebrated for health and good water, is well adapted to grazing and to the growth of corn and wheat. The turnpike road leading from Alexandria to Warrenton is finished, with the exception of seven miles. The improvements are a two story house, about fifty feet long, in the suburbs of Warrenton; two houses for overseers; a large barn, stables, and every necessary house for a farm. On the property are 3 good apple orchards, and a variety of other fruit trees. This tract is now divided into two farms—each of which has a superabundance of wood, and is laid off into six fields under good fences, with running water in every field. I believe there is a sufficiency of stone on the land to enclose the whole tract. Both farms have been under a course of clover and plaister for several years, by which they have been much improved, as the plaister acts with very great effect. The subscriber will divide the tract to suit purchasers. The terms are one third down, with an accommodating credit on the balance, if he sells a part; but only one fourth if the purchaser buys the whole tract, together with the stock of horses, cattle, sheep, hogs, the farming utensils of every description, and all the provision that may be on hand for the support of the farm.

Valuable Land for Sale.

PURSUANT to a decree of the Superior Court of Chancery for the district of Fredericksburg, in Virginia, the undersigned commissioners will proceed to sell, at public auction, upon a credit of one, two, and three years, at Middleburg, in the county of Loudon, on Thursday the 18th day of November next,

4000 Acres of Land,

lying in the neighborhood of Middleburg. The whole land is of that quality termed plaister land, and susceptible of high improvement by the use of it. The whole will be laid out into small tracts, of from two to three hundred acres each, and sold in separate tracts to suit purchasers. The whole is well watered, and no country is more healthy. Captain Pickett, who lives near the land, and who is employed to make a survey of it; and Mr. Somers, who is the agent for the collection of the rents, will shew the land to those who may be inclined to purchase. Bond and security, and a deed of trust upon each tract, will be required of the purchaser.

JOHN LINTON,
JOHN GIBSON,
PHILIP HARRISON.
augus 20—23

☞ The editors of the papers published in Alexandria, Leesburg and Winchester, will publish the above until the day of sale, and send their bills to P. Harrison, at Fredericksburg, for payment.

Notice.

THE undersigned being anxious to close their business, and believing that nothing short of a determination not to prosecute it for the present will enable them to effect so desirable an event, respectfully and earnestly solicit all those who are indebted to them, to make immediate payment, in order to enable them to meet more promptly the demands of those to whom they are indebted.

JOHN HOPKINS

Hill and Dale, April 20.

Gunston for Sale.

THIS elegant estate is situated on the Potomac, 16 miles below Alexandria—it is bounded on three sides by the Potomac and Pohick creek, and contains nearly 3,000 acres of land, level and fertile, to which are attached six shad and herring fisheries, two of which command the river channel. This land will be laid off in four tracts, so as to have one or more fisheries to each; these tracts will be again divided if requisite. This estate is level and beautifully situated, very fertile, and remarkably healthy. Plaister acts with an effect equal to that of any part of Virginia or Pennsylvania.—I have used 500 bushels in twelve months, and such is its beneficial operation, that were I to keep this land I should considerably increase the quantity. A manufacturing mill is distant about two miles, on a stream navigable for vessels carrying 1200 bushels of wheat, where the Baltimore and Dist. of Columbia prices are given for grain: being bounded on 3 sides by water, a small extent only of fence is necessary to inclose the whole: it would be admirably adapted to grazing. The improvements are a large and very substantial brick mansion, 40 by 70 feet, with every necessary outhouse, three commodious barns, houses for Negroes, and fish houses at each of the fisheries. 120,000 bricks and 1000 bushels of lime are just burnt on the premises. There is a considerable extent of live fence, both useful and ornamental, two orchards of well selected apples and peach, besides an abundance of other choice fruit. More than 150 acres are in clover, 200 in corn, and land is in preparation for sowing 250 bushels of small grain. Any quantity of hay can be cut from the low grounds, some of which (and all might,) have been reclaimed at a trifling expense. The river and creeks, abound with wild fowl, particularly canvass backs, the woods with deer and a variety of other game. Mules, cattle, highly improved sheep, farming utensels and household furniture can be had. The terms of sale will be accommodating. Property in any of the cities, negroes, bank stock, western lands, or lands near the Ridge, will be taken in payment.—Letters must be addressed to me at Pohick Church, Fairfax county, Virginia.

S. Drew, Merchant Tailor,

Removed from Fairfax-street to the corner of King and Columbus streets, and his prices falling

RESPECTFULLY acquaints his customers and the citizens in general that he has removed as above, where he will study to give satisfaction. He has by him a small but well assorted stock of goods, which will be found on inspection to be of the best quality, the whole of which he wishes to sell low for cash, and as further inducements to purchasers he offers to cut out any goods, bought of him to any size or pattern gratis.

S. Drew aware, of the advantage a ready money business has over one where long credit is given, thinks that a distinction ought to be made in the prices in each case: and as the price of provisions are low at present, he is glad to be able to announce to those customers who will feel disposed to pay him ready money for his work, that he will reduce the price of making to them according to the present journeymen's wages; and to prevent any supposed imposition on the one hand or disatisfaction on the other he is willing to be goverued by the printed regulations of prices by which the journeymen are paid in Alexandria.

N. B. Bread, flour, beef, groceries, liquors or any thing valuable taken in exchange for clothes.

S. Drew has this day opened a tavern in the same house, where he has laid in a a supply of Philadelphia and the district porter and ale, together with liquors of the best quality, and he feels confident that he shall be able to give satisfaction to all who will please to favor him with a call.—He is fitting up his house for the accommodation of boarders, travellers, &c. and from its central situation, good beds and stabling, together with other requisites, he presumes that it will be found a convenient establishment. may 25

PROSPECTUS

Of a new periodical work to be published in the city of Washington, entitled the Washington Theological REPERTORY.

EDITORS. { Rev. Wm Hawley, Washington.
Rev. Wm. H. Wilmer, Alexandria,
Rev. Oliver Norris, Alexandria,
Rev. Reuel Keith, Georgetown.

Assisted by several other literary gentlemen of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

IF any apology were necessary for this undertaking, it may be found in the fact, that there is no publication on a similar plan, in all that section of our country lying south of New-York, and but one in the whole of the United States. It has been matter of equal surprize and regret, that the Episcopal Church should be so far behind other Christian denominations, in similar efforts to disseminate the principles of religion and piety. At a period like the present, when the Lord is preparing his way on earth, by the most remarkable efforts of human agency, and the most wonderful operations of his providence and grace—when we perceive in every part of Christendom, a praise-worthy emulation to share in the glorious work of filling the earth with the knowledge of the only true God, and his Son Jesus Christ; it would seem criminal for any to withhold their exertions, however feeble, in the great enterprize of human happiness and salvation. The editors have, therefore, felt it their duty to make this humble effort to supply this acknowledged deficiency on the part of the church in this section of the country, and to bear their share in the common exertions of Christians to promote the Redeemer's Kingdom. And having obtained the services of a gentleman, in whose talents and principles they have confidence, whose time will be wholly devoted to the superintendence of the work, they feel encouraged to solicit the patronage of the public.

The publecation will be conducted under the immediate inspection and control of the above named editors, who will form a committee to review every article intended for publication. The principles upon which it will be conducted are those of the bible, as illustrated in the articles, Liturgy and Homilies of the Protestant Episcopal Church. As members of this church the editors will feel bound to support the Apostolical character of her institutions, the pious tendency of her rites and ceremonies, and the evangelical nature of her doctrines But in these, and all other discussions, they hope never to loose sight of that great law of charity which teaches us to "preserve the unity of the spirit in the bond of peace"

Acting upon those catholic principles, so long and so successively pursued by "The Christian Observer," their chief object will be to inculcate sound theological knowledge, and to delineate and recommend pure and vital religion. They trust therefore, that while the members of every Christian denomination may find something edifying and instructive, none will discover any just cause for offence in the pages of this work. General subjects of biblical criticism, practical illustrations of scriptural truth, the biography of illustrious persons, evidences of the truth of revelation, essays on the history and polity of the church, reviews of interesting publications, religious, literary and philosophical intelligence—in short, whatever is connected with the promotion of religion, humanity and literature, will find a place in this repository.

The testimony of experience supersedes the necessity of dwelling on the advantages of a periodical publication on the plan proposed. Its obvious tendency will be to render the various departments of religious knowledge more easy and accessible, and give a more ready currency and wider circulation, to those great truths which involve the present welfare and future destiny of man.

It will tend powerfully to stimulate the exertions of the editors, and console them under the difficulties attendant on the prosecution of this work, amidst many other avocations, should it prove the means under the blessing of God, of enriching any of its readers with the saving knowledge of Christ, and prepare them for a participation in the felicity and glory of his heavenly kingdom. With this hope they commit it into his hands, and confidently solicit their brethren of the clergy and laity to assist them in carrying into effect the objects of the undertaking.

TERMS OF THE WORK.

A volume of the Repertory shall consist of twelve numbers, of which one shall be published on the first day of every month, containing thirty-two large octavo pages, stitched in blue, and attended with a table of contents.

The paper used in the work shall be good, and the typography executed with the greatest care.

The price of a volume is two dollars, payable in advance; to such as omit the advance, two dollars and fifty cents.

It is designed to enlarge the size of the work, without increasing the price, as soon as one thousand subscribers shall be obtained.

Communications and remittances may be directed to any of the editors, post paid.

Any person becoming responsible for five subscribers, shall receive a sixth copy gratis.

The first number may be expected in the month of July. June 26

For Sale,

TWO tracts of valuable land in Durham Parish, Charles County, Maryland opposite Nanjemoy Reach—one of these tracts of land is bounded on one side by the Potomac, has a valuable fishery, and contains about 360 acres of bottom, with a quantity of wood that ought to be cut.—The other is about three-fourths of a mile from the river, from one half to two thirds covered with wood and valuable white-oak timber, and contains about 700 acres. Both tracts have an orchard of choice fruit. The above land will be sold at Charles County Court, on THURSDAY in the third week of August next at Public sale, if not sold before, at private sale.—The terms will be made known at the sale. Timber or wood may be purchased any time previous to the sale.
